

Bloomfield College is partnered with Raise.me, a scholarship platform that enables students, starting in 9th grade, to earn scholarship dollars. Currently 436 Bloomfield High School students are enrolled in the program. To date those students have earned $506,000.

Race to Raise is a state wide competition where each New Jersey high school will earn points when an educator or student creates a Raise.me account and the school that earns the highest number of points with a Raise.me party at their school.

Check your email to see how BHS is doing in the Race to Raise!

